

HoNEST Workshop: Barcelona, Spain May 28-29, 2018
Atoms for Peace and Europe:
Nuclear Energy Networks in Europe and around the Globe

Location: University Pompeu Fabra

May 28, 2018

9:00 am – 10 am Informal Coffee and Fruit Get-together

1st Session: Opening, Introductions, and Getting to Work: 10 am – 12:30 am

Paul Josephson, Opening

Matthew Adamson, Finishing the Opening

2nd Session: 10:30 – 12:30: National Responses

Paul Josephson, “Framing the Peaceful Atom” (Introductory Comments)

Barbara Curli, University of Turin

"Atoms for industry. The nuclear activities of Fiat, 1956-1967"

Comment: Karl-Erik Michelsen

Michaela Kůželová, Charles University

“Towards the atomic age together with the Soviet Union: Popularization of nuclear energy in Czechoslovakia in the 1950s”

Comment: Gloria sans Lafuente

12:30 – 2:30 Lunch and Strolling

3rd Session: 2:30 – 5:30: National Responses (continued)

Karl-Erik Michelsen, University of Lappeenranta

“Atoms for Peace and the breaking of the post-war political isolation” – Transnational Initiative and the beginning of nuclear age in Finland 1953-1955”

Comment: Matthew Adamson

Gabor Pallo, Budapest University of Technology and Economics

“Construction of nuclear culture: Looking at the first Geneva conference from Hungary”

Comment: Eliza Gheorghe

Tran Thai Vinh, National University of Singapore

"Atoms for What? Cold War Atoms for Peace and the quest for nation building in post-colonial states in Asia: South Korea and South Vietnam case studies"

Comment: Paul Josephson

4:00-4:20 Coffee Break

Gloria Sans Lafuente, Universidad Pública de Navarra

“A road for heavy water. An entrepreneurial option inside the Spanish nuclear programme, 1955-1965”

Comment: Nestor Herran

General Discussion of First day Results: Matthew Adamson facilitator

Dinner 7:30 Arrangements to be Announced

Day 2: May 29, 2018: International Aspects of the Peace Atom

8:30 – 9:00 Coffee, Pastries, Juice

4th Session: 9:00- 10:30 The Market for the Peaceful Atom

Matthew Adamson, McDaniel College (Budapest campus)

“Hot Commodities: The Status of Uranium and Atoms for Peace”

Comment: Michaela Kůželová

Jacob Hamblin, Oregon State University

“‘Ruthless, Power-directed, Ambitious’: How the Americans Tried to Manage Atomic Aspirations in Asia in the Fifties”

Comment: Tran Thai Vinh

Néstor Herran, Sorbonne University

“The industry of radioisotopes before and after Atoms for Peace: a European perspective”

Comment: Gabor Pallo

10:30-10:45 Brief Coffee Break

5th Session: 10:45 International Aspects (con’t’d.) and Summing Up

Eliza Gheorghe, Yale University

“Making Up for Lost Time: The Global Competition for Markets and the Launch of Atoms for Peace”

Comment: Barbara Curli

Paul Josephson and Matthew Adamson: Publication, future plans

Closing down at 12:30 pm. Informal lunch for those who can.